September Monthly Webinar

Join us for our September 2025 monthly webinar for a collaborative “birds of a feather” style webinar where we will all come together to explore and discuss the Generative AI Overview for Project Managers course from Project Management Institute. This free self-paced online class offers a foundational understanding of how generative AI is shaping the future of project management. The course is free from PMI.org with a free PMI.org account. Not only will you earn a badge that you can display on your Linked In (and other social media platforms) profile, but if you are CAPM or PMP certified, you will earn 5 PDUs toward keeping your certification active.

Each participant will complete the course independently, and then we'll gather to share insights, reflect on key takeaways, and explore practical applications in our own projects and organizations. Whether you're just beginning to explore AI or already experimenting with its capabilities, this is a space to learn from peers, ask questions, and grow together. Let's bridge the gap between theory and practice—one conversation at a time.

To help facilitate the discussion, we ask you to take our quick 5 question survey BEFORE the presentation on Thursday so that we can present the findings as part of our discussion. Thank you!
